ABSTRACT

The invention relates to small interfering RNA specific to sub-units α , α' and β of the kinase protein CK2, and to the applications of the same, especially for treating cancer and viral illnesses.